

SULLIVAN COUNTY AUTHOR TO SPEAK ABOUT HIS POLITICAL THRILLER SET IN WOODSTOCK 50TH IN BETHEL

Woodstock 50th is in the air but before that happens, please join us on 6/27 with the Liberty Library and Sullivan County author Gray Basnight who will speak about his political thriller Flight of the Fox, set during a fictional Woodstock 50th in Bethel, NY that “exposes” government crimes from the J. Edgar Hoover era.

The talk will be at 3 Weston Way in Liberty from 1:00-2:30 pm, with light refreshments and a book signing. Come hear:

- Why it’s set in Bethel, NY during the Woodstock Festival 50th anniversary -- and how Gray imagined his fictional celebration
- Why Gray deliberately chose an “everyman” as his hero
- How Ellen DeGeneres and Clint Eastwood inspired this run-for-your-life adventure, set against the dark days of J Edgar Hoover but happening in the very near future
- How Robert Ludlum, Ken Follett and Edgar Allan Poe influenced the plot and story through alternate history, encoding/decoding, and shaping a page-turner

You can read more about Gray and Flight of the Fox in the June 6th issue of Ye Old Trivalley Townsman (page 4) and an excerpt will be in the June issue of the Hurleyville Sentinel (page 5).

Gray is available for readings/signings, book club visits and other area literary and author events. Contact lweiss@lweiss.com.
