Mysterious Stone Sites in the Hudson Valley VIRTUAL Program by the Time and the Valleys Museum Sunday, January 24, 2 p.m.

Author and researcher Linda Zimmermann explores mysteries in the woods of the Hudson Valley of New York and northern New Jersey. Stone chambers, perched boulders, standing stones, and massive walls could be unique historical treasures which should be studied and preserved. Some stone sites are assumed to be the work of colonial farmers, but Zimmermann has found compelling evidence that disputes this misconception. Could the astronomical alignments at these sites provide answers? Could they be the work of Native Americans or Pre-Columbian voyagers?

Linda Zimmermann is a research chemist turned award-winning author of 30 books on science, history, the paranormal, and fiction. Her books, including Mysterious Stone Sites in the Hudson Valley and Northern New Jersey, can be purchased on amazon.com.

Admission to the Museum's virtual events is FREE and virtual attendance is EASY. Just email the Museum at info@timeandthevalleymuseum.org to register. You will receive a reply email invitation with information on how to log in for the talk.

The Time and the Valleys Museum is currently closed, but will open Memorial Day to Labor Day, Thursday to Sunday, from noon to 4 p.m. and weekends in September. The Museum has everything in place to protect the health of both visitors and staff. Staff will be wearing masks at all times, using hand sanitizer frequently and thoroughly cleaning all touched surfaces several times a day. Visitors to the Museum and 1930s Lost Catskill Farm must wear masks, practice social distancing and use hand sanitizer frequently throughout their visit.

Exhibitions at the museum include:

- Water and the Valleys is an exhibit on the history of the Rondout and Neversink watershed area from early geological times to the 20th century. This newly renovated exhibition includes a section on the Lenape Native Americans, early area settlers, farming, local industries and more.
- Tunnels, Toil and Trouble: New York City's Quest for Water and the Rondout-Neversink Story is an engaging exhibition on NYC water supply system and the towns that were removed to build the system. The exhibit includes why New York City needed water, a description of the three water systems, the heartache of the people who had to give up their homes and how the complex system was built.
- 1930's Catskill Family Farm is an outdoor, open air experience with several early farm buildings all illustrating life on a Catskill family farm during the 1930's. Buildings include a farm house, 1870's barn, electric plant, milk house, outhouse and workshop with WORKING waterwheel.
- One Teacher, Eight Grades, One Room is a temporary exhibition on one room schools in the Tri-Valley area.

The Museum is located at 332 Main Street (State Route 55) in Grahamsville. Adult admission is a suggested donation of $5, children under 16 $2, and children under six free. Town of Neversink and Town of Denning residents receive free admission every Thursday. As a Blue Star Museum, the Museum offers free admission to active duty military members and up to five family members. For more information, call 845 985-7700, e-mail info@timeandthevalleymuseum.org or visit www.timeandthevalleymuseum.org. Groups, camps and schools are always welcome.
